Directorate of Core Program Activities

One of the basic 5 modules of the "KHAS 105 Universal Values and Ethics" course, included within the compulsory courses of Fall semester in the KHAS Core Program, focuses on the topics of Citizenship and Participation. Issues such as climate change and global warming are also discussed within this framework and the responsibilities of individuals particularly living in cities are discussed.

Climate and global environmental problems are discussed in different aspects in the "Universal Issues" course, one of the elective courses of the Spring term within the scope of the Core Program.
